

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XVIII.

ONE DAY LONGER.

THE MAINE STATESMAN LINGERES
IN NEW YORK.Mr. Blaine Gets Up Early in the Morning, and Finds Business Which Delays Him Twenty Hours Longer—The People Who Called on Him.

NEW YORK, March 28.—[Special.]—Hon. Jas. G. Blaine was up bright and early this morning at the Fifth Avenue hotel. He passed through the corridor, but did not stop to converse with the few who happened to recognize him. He will not depart until tomorrow morning. His delay of twenty-four hours was caused by some business matters here which required his attention [tonight]. He will leave in a special car of the Pennsylvania limited express tomorrow [at 10 o'clock], accompanied by his daughter, Miss Hattie Blaine, and possibly several friends.

Among the many callers today were Col. John J. Safley, Hon. James F. Joy, of Michigan; Hon. Stephen Elkins, and General W. T. Sherman.

PAUL BOYTON'S SCHEME.

He Jumps Into the Sea and Is Picked Up Near Providence.

NEW YORK, March 28.—[Special.]—Captain Paul Boyton, with his swimming outfit, sailed on the pilot boat Fanny (No. 17), which left here under Captain John Harps last Friday. His intentions were to stay on board until the Philadelphia steamer was sighted, throw himself overboard, signal the steamer and swim in her wake to shore. Captain Aitken, who accompanied the Fanny on the cruise, arrived yesterday on the bark Nerold from Havasu. He said he left the Fanny Saturday. She was then about thirty-five miles east southeast from Aescunight. Captain Boyton was then on board awaiting the sight of the steamer. Captain Edward Devlin, who was also on the pilot boat, said he left her yesterday at two o'clock, and came to the city on the bark Bony Deen. When he left the boat Captain Boyton had become tired waiting and had donned his rubber suit and charged his little paper signal cannon, preparatory to launching himself into the ocean. He had given up the idea of waiting for the steamer, and intended to swim ashore. The ferry was then about forty-five miles east southeast from Aescunight. The sea was heavy, he said, and the wind blowing half a gale from the south. The sky was overcast with threatening clouds, and a storm was expected every minute. The captain, he said, was determined to accomplish hisfeat, and was cheerful and confident. "The surf must have been fearful," he said, "it would be impossible for him to land without killing himself." The general opinion here yesterday was that if the reckless swimmer had started to swim ashore the probability was that he would be drowned. Considerable joy was manifested in the city this evening when it became known that Captain Boyton had arrived at Providence R. I., having been picked up by the steamer after he had been battling with the winds and waves for many hours.

HARGETT GIVES UP.

The Principal in a Murder of Three Years Ago.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—This morning Sheriff Talley, of Harris county, arrived in the city, having in charge Sam Hargett, who killed Mr. Jesse Calhoun in that county three years ago. Mr. Hargett is now confined in Muscogee county jail. On the night of the 14th of February, 1881, a large attended "valentine drawing" took place at the residence of Mr. Webb Walker in Whitewater's district, Harris county. Nearly all the young men in the neighborhood, the older ones for miles and miles around, presented for the "drawing" was proving one of the most enticing social occasions which ever transpired in that neighborhood. Among those in attendance were Sam Hargett and Jesse Calhoun, two of the most popular young men of that community. For some cause, the exact particulars of which have never yet been brought to light, these two young men became involved in a deadly dispute, which Hargett stabbled and killed Calhoun. Hargett then made his escape, and his whereabouts have been unknown until this morning, when he appeared at the residence of Sheriff Talley, in Hamilton, and said he had been to see his wife, Sheriff Talley, in company with Hargett's uncle, brought the young man to this city and placed him in Muscogee county jail for safe keeping.

KILLED IN ITS MOTHER'S ARMS.

An Accident on the Iron Mountain Railroad.

ST. LOUIS, March 28.—A Post-Dispatch special says a passenger train on the Iron Mountain road, this morning struck a broken rail at Hilliard, Mo. The ladies' coach and Pullman sleeper left the track and turned over, badly damaging both cars. Mrs. Honeycutt held a child in her arms when the jolt occurred, and, being thrown forward, the child was killed and she was badly injured, as were several other passengers. The train was moving rapidly and the coaches were turned over and over.

SALINE OF the Soddy Mines.

CHATTANOOGA, March 28.—A syndicate of Cincinnati capitalists has just purchased the Soddy Mine company's property in this country, comprising more than 6,000 acres of mineral and farmland land. The price paid is not known, but understood to have been nearly half a million dollars. E. Zimmerman, president of the Cincinnati and Hamilton Railroad company, is one of the principals. The Soddy Mine is the only mine more substantial and have a larger number of miners operating than any other mines in the country.

Appointments by the President.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The president made the following appointments: W. H. Carpenter, Knoxville, Tenn., to be pension agent at Knoxville; James R. Jordan, of Virginia, to be marshal of the United States for the Western district of Virginia.

Thomas H. Laird has been appointed inspector of steam vessels at Savannah.

Accident to Senator Reagan.

PALESTINE, Tex., March 28.—Senator John H. Reagan met with a painful accident this morning near this city. While attempting to mount his horse, he slipped, throwing him violently to the ground and injuring his spine. He is exceedingly tight, but expects to be confined to his bed for some time.

Greensboro to Improve.

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 28.—[Special.]—Greensboro voted almost unanimously today to issue bonds to the amount of one hundred thousand dollars for public improvements. The vote stands 362 for the issue and 20 against.

Prohibitionists Win.

WINCHESTER, Va., March 28.—The prohibitionists carry Frederick county, an 11th majority to reach 10. At noon points the contest was animated. The weather tonight is very cold. A stiff northwest is blowing, and it is freezing.

Two to One Against Prohibition.

SENECA, S. C., March 28.—monumental election today th

ists carried the election by to one.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.
Habeas Corpus Granted—Two Virginia Coupon Cases.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—A decision was rendered by the United States supreme court today in the habeas corpus case No. 7 original, ex parte, in the matter of George M. Bain, Jr., petitioner. Bain, petitioner in this case, was a citizen of the state of Virginia, and of Norfolk, Va., and was indicted under section 529 of the Revised Statutes for making a false report or statement as to the condition of that bank. He was tried, found guilty and sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the Albany penitentiary. He made application to this court for a writ of habeas corpus and discharge from custody. The United States marshal, on the ground, first, that the indictment on which he was tried was not found by a legal or valid grand jury and, second, that the indictment was unconstitutional and void because after it came from the grand jury the court allowed it to be altered and amended. Without considering the question as to the validity of the grand jury, this court, in a careful and learned opinion, held that the indictment was valid and sufficient to sustain the conviction. The indictment found by the grand jury was inadmissible to the power of the court to try the petitioner for the crime with which he was charged; second, that the indictment on which he was tried, after it had been changed and amended by order of the county, was no longer the indictment of the grand jury that presented it. Any other indictment would have been inadmissible to the prosecution of an indictment if there was nothing before the court which the indictment in reality no longer exists. It is of no avail under such circumstances to say that the court still has jurisdiction of the person and of the crime, for though it has possession of the person and would have jurisdiction of the crime, if it were properly presented by the indictment, jurisdiction of the offense is gone and the court has no right to prosecute and try the person for the offense.

STEEL WORKS DESTROYED.

A Large Conflagration in a Syracuse Sa-lubur.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 28.—Sanderson steel works in Geddes, a suburb of this city, were destroyed by fire, which broke out at one o'clock this morning. The wind was blowing gale at the time, and the members of the fire department were engaged with a fire in another part of the city. In an hour, the building was entirely destroyed, and the fire spread in rages. The total loss is upward of $250,000. The property belonged to the Sandersons of Shiefield, England, who started the works in this city about twelve years ago.

Extensive improvements were contemplated this spring. The works will be rebuilt immediately, and will be a third larger than those burned. The fire is supposed to have originated in the gas pipe, which exploded so suddenly. Much other property was endangered by flying sparks, but fortunately what might have been an extensive conflagration was averted by the effective work of firemen assisted by citizens.

Leather Manufacturer Destroyed.

WOBURN, Mass., March 28.—The large leather manufacturer of John Maxwell & Co., No. 101 Washington, also the leather manufacturer of leather and machinery, together with a large amount of stock, were burned to-night. Loss $100,000, with partial insurance.

Paint Works Burned.

ST. LOUIS, March 28.—Sargent's paint works, corner of Main and Morgan streets, burned this afternoon. Loss estimated at $10,000; insured.

THE STRANGE CAREER

Of a Man Who Bore a Title for Half an Hour.MOBILE, Ala., March 28.—[Special.]—Samuel Tepper of Canada, Ala., who committed suicide Saturday evening, had lived at Camden twenty years under circumstances which removed him from society.

The household of his parents, about fifty dollars a month.

Aitken, who was

an advertisement inquiring for him, and learned he was part heir of the estate of his cousin Turner, the celebrated English lan-

guist.

Tepper went to England, where

on the sale of the estate he received sixty

thousand dollars, a number of steel plates

and engravings of Turner's paintings

and several of the paintings

of the famous painter of

the 18th century.

He was given a title of nobility

and was made a knight.

Aitken, who was

an advertisement inquiring for him, and learned he was part heir of the estate of his

cousin Turner, the celebrated English lan-

guist.

Tepper went to England, where

on the sale of the estate he received sixty

thousand dollars, a number of steel plates

and engravings of Turner's paintings

and several of the paintings

of the famous painter of

the 18th century.

He was given a title of nobility

and was made a knight.

Aitken, who was

an advertisement inquiring for him, and learned he was part heir of the estate of his

cousin Turner, the celebrated English lan-

guist.

Tepper went to England, where

on the sale of the estate he received sixty

thousand dollars, a number of steel plates

and engravings of Turner's paintings

and several of the paintings

of the famous painter of

the 18th century.

He was given a title of nobility

and was made a knight.

Aitken, who was

an advertisement inquiring for him, and learned he was part heir of the estate of his

cousin Turner, the celebrated English lan-

guist.

Tepper went to England, where

on the sale of the estate he received sixty

thousand dollars, a number of steel plates

and engravings of Turner's paintings

and several of the paintings

of the famous painter of

the 18th century.

He was given a title of nobility

and was made a knight.

Aitken, who was

an advertisement inquiring for him, and learned he was part heir of the estate of his

cousin Turner, the celebrated English lan-

guist.

Tepper went to England, where

on the sale of the estate he received sixty

thousand dollars, a number of steel plates

and engravings of Turner's paintings

and several of the paintings

of the famous painter of

the 18th century.

He was given a title of nobility

and was made a knight.

Aitken, who was

an advertisement inquiring for him, and learned he was part heir of the estate of his

cousin Turner, the celebrated English lan-

guist.

Tepper went to England, where

on the sale

ACWORTH TOSSED UP.

THE TOWN VISITED BY A TERRIBLE WIND STORM.

which Upset Houses and Carries Roofs Away—The Narrow Escape of two Families—One Man Goes through a Window—the Damage to Property.

ACWORTH, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—A terrible hail storm, accompanied with a terrific and destructive wind, struck Acworth last night about 8:30 o'clock, and lasted about three-quarters of a minute. In this short time the whole scene was covered with the icy drops and drifted in many places a foot deep. THE ROOFS CALLED AWAY.

The wind lifted the tin roofing off of Messrs. M. & C. Phillips' two storerooms, and the rain which followed completely wet their entire stock of goods. They estimate their damage at $2,000.

TWO HOUSES BLOWN DOWN.

David Lewis' and John Green's dwellings were both completely demolished. No piece of timber was left in place, and yet, strange as it may seem, no one was hurt, notwithstanding there were six in each family. Some of the children were in their beds. The furniture was badly damaged.

The house in which Mary Meroney lived was also made a complete wreck, but the family were all away from the house at church at the time.

The house occupied by Joe Mason was almost set up on end. No one was in the house but Joe. When the storm struck his house a window was blown open, and Joe jumped out and sought safety in flight.

Leak, Green, Meroney and Mason are all cured.

THE SCHOOL DEMOLISHED.

The colored folks' schoolhouse and Robert's ginhouse and cotton press were also blown down.

STOCK QUOTED AT $2.10.

The Bridge and Furnace both contracted for.

ROME, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—The board of the Rome Land, Iron and Improvement company has closed a contract with the Atlanta Bridge and Axle company for the Howard street bridge. The price agreed upon is $15,000, and the time guaranteed is August 1st, 1887.

They have appropriated $5,000 for a charcoal furnace, and will begin work on it at once. Stock is worth 105 to 110 premium, and scarcely to be had at all.

The street is lively today. Traders are in dead earnest and generally unwilling to let go one property before another is secured.

The Land company's trustees are working like beavers, improving the property of the company and treating with manufacturers.

The advertisement of a charter for the new furnace company has been published.

A LATER DISPATCH.

ROME, Ga., March 28—8 p.m.—[Special.] Notwithstanding the inclement weather, real estate transactions opened with a rush. One firm sold city and suburban property amounting to twenty-six thousand dollars. The demand for the stock of the Rome Land, Iron and Improvement company is unprecedented. Stock is now quoted at two twenty-five, and cannot be had for that. It is doubtful if it could be bought for two fifty. Charters were applied for today for a furnace and rolling mill. The location has not yet been decided on, but will be broken in a few days.

Several small factories are assured and before thirty days have elapsed, Rome will be a town that has never been equaled by any in the southern city. Conservative business men declare that within the next few weeks real estate will enhance in value one hundred per cent. Fortunes will be made by all who are wise enough to make immediate investments.

A FAITHLESS WIFE

Leads to the Enactment of a Terrible Tragedy.

ALBANY, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—Nicholas the Baker county murderer who is incarcerated in the Dougherty county jail for safe keeping whilst in a fit of insanity, attempted to kill himself. After beating his head against the wall, the demented prisoner jumped from the window, and fell a distance of eight feet, falling on his head. The fall came near resulting seriously, but he received prompt medical attention, and is getting along fairly well. Nicholas is undoubtedly crazy, and will be taken to him, when our white men, who have been upon him, and arrested him. After searching him, and divesting him of his only weapon of defense, a pocket knife, one R. Hard Ray, colored, came up, and began abusing Crawford. Several words were passed between them, when his captors—the pretended pacemakers—grabbed their helpless prisoner, and ordered Ray to shoot him down. Ray shot him, and emptied his gun, and the bullet passed through the heart. Yet this whole pose, as well as Ray, is at liberty and endeavoring to incite public opinion in their favor.

IN DANGER OF DEATH.

An Attack Made Upon the Life of an Old Man.

The Weather Blowing a Small Sized

MONROE DISCLOSES THEM.

The Burglars Paid the Town a Visit, but Left Late.

MONROE, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—The statement of the wounded burglar published in Sunday's CONSTITUTION, that two of his partners were from Monroe is false. There are no such characters in this community. This gang of thieves came here some ten days ago, went into the depot and several of the stores and looked at the location of the safes, but as they found good double barrel shotguns sitting close by, they concluded it would be a bad job to undertake a robbery, so they left, going toward Gainesville. There are game preserves sleeping in every store in town who will give them a warm reception whenever they come.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Henry Daniel, of the Central Railroad, Breathes His Last.

MACON, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning Henry Daniel, one of the best known railroad men of the city, was taken ill at his home in Elizabethtown. His husband had been ill, and so shocked was he at the occurrence that he went into a fit of apoplexy which killed him. Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who are related to the family, went up to the funeral today.

Quite a number of the older citizens of Jones have died within the last few days. Among them is Mr. Middlebrooks, one of the best known men in the county, died last week, as did George King, an old and respected citizen of the county.

Mrs. Winters, an old lady residing near Bradley, died last evening.

NICKOLY'S HARD HEAD.

He Makes an Effort to Bump the Floor Through.

ELBERTON, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—Nicholas the Baker county murderer who is incarcerated in the Dougherty county jail for safe keeping whilst in a fit of insanity, attempted to kill himself. After beating his head against the wall, the demented prisoner jumped from the window, and fell a distance of eight feet, falling on his head. The fall came near resulting seriously, but he received prompt medical attention, and is getting along fairly well. Nicholas is undoubtedly crazy, and will be taken to him, when our white men, who have been upon him, and arrested him. After searching him, and divesting him of his only weapon of defense, a pocket knife, one R. Hard Ray, colored, came up, and began abusing Crawford. Several words were passed between them, when his captors—the pretended pacemakers—grabbed their helpless prisoner, and ordered Ray to shoot him down. Ray shot him, and emptied his gun, and the bullet passed through the heart. Yet this whole pose, as well as Ray, is at liberty and endeavoring to incite public opinion in their favor.

IN DANGER OF DEATH.

An Attack Made Upon the Life of an Old Man.

The Weather Blowing a Small Sized

MONROE DISCLOSES THEM.

The Burglars Paid the Town a Visit, but Left Late.

MONROE, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—The statement of the wounded burglar published in Sunday's CONSTITUTION, that two of his partners were from Monroe is false. There are no such characters in this community. This gang of thieves came here some ten days ago, went into the depot and several of the stores and looked at the location of the safes, but as they found good double barrel shotguns sitting close by, they concluded it would be a bad job to undertake a robbery, so they left, going toward Gainesville. There are game preserves sleeping in every store in town who will give them a warm reception whenever they come.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Henry Daniel, of the Central Railroad, Breathes His Last.

MACON, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning Henry Daniel, one of the best known railroad men of the city, was taken ill at his home in Elizabethtown. His husband had been ill, and so shocked was he at the occurrence that he went into a fit of apoplexy which killed him. Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who are related to the family, went up to the funeral today.

The Weather Blowing a Small Sized

MONROE DISCLOSES THEM.

The Burglars Paid the Town a Visit, but Left Late.

MONROE, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—The statement of the wounded burglar published in Sunday's CONSTITUTION, that two of his partners were from Monroe is false. There are no such characters in this community. This gang of thieves came here some ten days ago, went into the depot and several of the stores and looked at the location of the safes, but as they found good double barrel shotguns sitting close by, they concluded it would be a bad job to undertake a robbery, so they left, going toward Gainesville. There are game preserves sleeping in every store in town who will give them a warm reception whenever they come.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Henry Daniel, of the Central Railroad, Breathes His Last.

MACON, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning Henry Daniel, one of the best known railroad men of the city, was taken ill at his home in Elizabethtown. His husband had been ill, and so shocked was he at the occurrence that he went into a fit of apoplexy which killed him. Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who are related to the family, went up to the funeral today.

The Weather Blowing a Small Sized

MONROE DISCLOSES THEM.

The Burglars Paid the Town a Visit, but Left Late.

MONROE, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—The statement of the wounded burglar published in Sunday's CONSTITUTION, that two of his partners were from Monroe is false. There are no such characters in this community. This gang of thieves came here some ten days ago, went into the depot and several of the stores and looked at the location of the safes, but as they found good double barrel shotguns sitting close by, they concluded it would be a bad job to undertake a robbery, so they left, going toward Gainesville. There are game preserves sleeping in every store in town who will give them a warm reception whenever they come.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Henry Daniel, of the Central Railroad, Breathes His Last.

MACON, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning Henry Daniel, one of the best known railroad men of the city, was taken ill at his home in Elizabethtown. His husband had been ill, and so shocked was he at the occurrence that he went into a fit of apoplexy which killed him. Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who are related to the family, went up to the funeral today.

The Weather Blowing a Small Sized

MONROE DISCLOSES THEM.

The Burglars Paid the Town a Visit, but Left Late.

MONROE, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—The statement of the wounded burglar published in Sunday's CONSTITUTION, that two of his partners were from Monroe is false. There are no such characters in this community. This gang of thieves came here some ten days ago, went into the depot and several of the stores and looked at the location of the safes, but as they found good double barrel shotguns sitting close by, they concluded it would be a bad job to undertake a robbery, so they left, going toward Gainesville. There are game preserves sleeping in every store in town who will give them a warm reception whenever they come.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Henry Daniel, of the Central Railroad, Breathes His Last.

MACON, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning Henry Daniel, one of the best known railroad men of the city, was taken ill at his home in Elizabethtown. His husband had been ill, and so shocked was he at the occurrence that he went into a fit of apoplexy which killed him. Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who are related to the family, went up to the funeral today.

The Weather Blowing a Small Sized

MONROE DISCLOSES THEM.

The Burglars Paid the Town a Visit, but Left Late.

MONROE, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—The statement of the wounded burglar published in Sunday's CONSTITUTION, that two of his partners were from Monroe is false. There are no such characters in this community. This gang of thieves came here some ten days ago, went into the depot and several of the stores and looked at the location of the safes, but as they found good double barrel shotguns sitting close by, they concluded it would be a bad job to undertake a robbery, so they left, going toward Gainesville. There are game preserves sleeping in every store in town who will give them a warm reception whenever they come.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Henry Daniel, of the Central Railroad, Breathes His Last.

MACON, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning Henry Daniel, one of the best known railroad men of the city, was taken ill at his home in Elizabethtown. His husband had been ill, and so shocked was he at the occurrence that he went into a fit of apoplexy which killed him. Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who are related to the family, went up to the funeral today.

The Weather Blowing a Small Sized

MONROE DISCLOSES THEM.

The Burglars Paid the Town a Visit, but Left Late.

MONROE, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—The statement of the wounded burglar published in Sunday's CONSTITUTION, that two of his partners were from Monroe is false. There are no such characters in this community. This gang of thieves came here some ten days ago, went into the depot and several of the stores and looked at the location of the safes, but as they found good double barrel shotguns sitting close by, they concluded it would be a bad job to undertake a robbery, so they left, going toward Gainesville. There are game preserves sleeping in every store in town who will give them a warm reception whenever they come.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Henry Daniel, of the Central Railroad, Breathes His Last.

MACON, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning Henry Daniel, one of the best known railroad men of the city, was taken ill at his home in Elizabethtown. His husband had been ill, and so shocked was he at the occurrence that he went into a fit of apoplexy which killed him. Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who are related to the family, went up to the funeral today.

The Weather Blowing a Small Sized

MONROE DISCLOSES THEM.

The Burglars Paid the Town a Visit, but Left Late.

MONROE, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—The statement of the wounded burglar published in Sunday's CONSTITUTION, that two of his partners were from Monroe is false. There are no such characters in this community. This gang of thieves came here some ten days ago, went into the depot and several of the stores and looked at the location of the safes, but as they found good double barrel shotguns sitting close by, they concluded it would be a bad job to undertake a robbery, so they left, going toward Gainesville. There are game preserves sleeping in every store in town who will give them a warm reception whenever they come.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Henry Daniel, of the Central Railroad, Breathes His Last.

MACON, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning Henry Daniel, one of the best known railroad men of the city, was taken ill at his home in Elizabethtown. His husband had been ill, and so shocked was he at the occurrence that he went into a fit of apoplexy which killed him. Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who are related to the family, went up to the funeral today.

The Weather Blowing a Small Sized

MONROE DISCLOSES THEM.

The Burglars Paid the Town a Visit, but Left Late.

MONROE, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—The statement of the wounded burglar published in Sunday's CONSTITUTION, that two of his partners were from Monroe is false. There are no such characters in this community. This gang of thieves came here some ten days ago, went into the depot and several of the stores and looked at the location of the safes, but as they found good double barrel shotguns sitting close by, they concluded it would be a bad job to undertake a robbery, so they left, going toward Gainesville. There are game preserves sleeping in every store in town who will give them a warm reception whenever they come.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Henry Daniel, of the Central Railroad, Breathes His Last.

MACON, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning Henry Daniel, one of the best known railroad men of the city, was taken ill at his home in Elizabethtown. His husband had been ill, and so shocked was he at the occurrence that he went into a fit of apoplexy which killed him. Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who are related to the family, went up to the funeral today.

The Weather Blowing a Small Sized

MONROE DISCLOSES THEM.

The Burglars Paid the Town a Visit, but Left Late.

MONROE, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—The statement of the wounded burglar published in Sunday's CONSTITUTION, that two of his partners were from Monroe is false. There are no such characters in this community. This gang of thieves came here some ten days ago, went into the depot and several of the stores and looked at the location of the safes, but as they found good double barrel shotguns sitting close by, they concluded it would be a bad job to undertake a robbery, so they left, going toward Gainesville. There are game preserves sleeping in every store in town who will give them a warm reception whenever they come.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Henry Daniel, of the Central Railroad, Breathes His Last.

MACON, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning Henry Daniel, one of the best known railroad men of the city, was taken ill at his home in Elizabethtown. His husband had been ill, and so shocked was he at the occurrence that he went into a fit of apoplexy which killed him. Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who are related to the family, went up to the funeral today.

The Weather Blowing a Small Sized

MONROE DISCLOSES THEM.

The Burglars Paid the Town a Visit, but Left Late.

MONROE, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—The statement of the wounded burglar published in Sunday's CONSTITUTION, that two of his partners were from Monroe is false. There are no such characters in this community. This gang of thieves came here some ten days ago, went into the depot and several of the stores and looked at the location of the safes, but as they found good double barrel shotguns sitting close by, they concluded it would be a bad job to undertake a robbery, so they left, going toward Gainesville. There are game preserves sleeping in every store in town who will give them a warm reception whenever they come.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Henry Daniel, of the Central Railroad, Breathes His Last.

MACON, Ga., March 28.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning Henry Daniel, one of the best known railroad men of the city, was taken ill at his home in Elizabethtown. His husband had been ill, and so shocked was he at the occurrence that he went into a fit of apoplexy which killed him. Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who are related to the family,

THE CONSTITUTION.

Published Daily and Weekly.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION IS PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE WEEK, AND IS DELIVERED BY CARRIERS IN THE CITY, OR MAILED, POSTAGE FREE, AT $1.00 PER MONTH, $2.50 FOR THREE MONTHS, OR $10 A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTION IS FOR SALE ON ALL TRAINS LEAVING OUT OF ATLANTA, AND AT NEWS STANDS IN THE PRINCIPAL SOUTHERN CITIES.

ADVERTISING RATES DEPEND ON LOCATION IN THE PAPER, AND WILL BE ANNOUNCED ON APPLICATION.

CORRESPONDENCE CONTAINING IMPORTANT NEWS SOLICITED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY.

ADDRESS ALL LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS, AND MAKE ALL DRAFTS OR CHECKS PAYABLE TO

THE CONSTITUTION.

Atlanta, Ga.

General Eastern Agent, J. J. FLYNN,

23 Park Row, New York City.

ATLANTA, GA., MARCH 29, 1887.

INDICATIONS for Atlanta, taken at 1 o'clock a.m. — WARM

Fair; warm. South Carolina,

Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Tennessee: Fair weather; northwesterly winds; warmer.

It is this freezing continues much longer. Editor Dawson will have to exchange his dollar and seventy-five cent silk stockings for a pair of home-made woolens.

THE Cincinnati Commercial. Sherman's organ, and announces that he is in the race for the presidential nomination. Thus the campaign opens.

As will be seen by a communication published elsewhere, Mr. Vanney Cleveland, of Tennessee, has ordered a monument to be placed over the resting place of his distinguished ancestor, Colonel Ben Cleveland, of revolutionary fame, and one of the heroes of King's Mountain. The monument will be a costly one, and is a just tribute to the memory of a southerner whose deeds rendered his name famous.

The democracy of the south is well nigh solid for Cleveland for a second term. A recent canvass of the Alabama legislature showed that sixty-nine out of eighty-six democrats were in favor of Cleveland. In other states of the south there is the same approach to unanimity in favor of the re-nomination of the president. Of course there are a few papers and politicians who are always on the wrong side, as they are now, but it will be observed that they but exercise their usual degree of influence, which, in this instance, amounts to nothing.

MAYOR HEWITT occasionally finds time, amid all his onerous duties, to indulge his sense of humor. Jerome Hopkins, the well known musical director, recently sent to Mayor Hewitt a letter, asking him if he thought that "Sunday oratorios would conduct to aid or weaken the cause of Sunday morality in New York." Mayor Hewitt replied as follows:

"As I am not an expert in music I ought not to have been asked this question but I should say on general principles that it depended upon the character of the audience. If the music were bad and the audience intelligent I should think it would not conduct to morality on the part of the audience. If the music were good and the audience had, I fancy they would be awfully bored by the performance."

Mr. WATTERSON, of the Courier-Journal, puts himself in a very peculiar position in saying, in an interview in the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"I do not believe there is the slightest chance of the democratic party winning next year unless it does nominate Cleveland. He is the only man that can, under present conditions, carry the party to victory."

If Mr. WATTERSON means what he says, there is but one conclusion to be drawn—that is, that he is against the success of the party in 1888. Else, why should he continue to abuse Mr. Cleveland's administration as he does? But

"While the lamp holds out to burn,

The west sinner may return."

In reply to the charge of plagiarism from Moore's "Epicurean," in not only the salient features of the plot, but the actual transition of parts of the text of the famous "She," Mrs. H. Rider Haggard, the wife of the author, says in defense of her husband, in the Pall Mall Gazette:

"Mr. Haggard is abroad in Cyprus, and will not return home for three or four weeks. As to the suggestion of plagiarism from Moore's "Epicurean," I am sure Mr. Haggard read the book, and I believe he never heard of it till it was mentioned to him by a gentleman a few days before he started for Egypt. The poem in 'She' was sent to Mr. Haggard from South Africa in manuscript in a private letter about seven years ago, by a lady now dead. He had always believed it to be her own composition, never to have been published."

Upon which the Gazette says:

"Since Haggard is away, this is not the moment for comment. Most writers, we fancy, will agree with us in holding, in the interests of literary morality, that some further explanation is imperatively required."

One of the patent arguments advanced by the friends of Mr. Sherman in favor of the advantage which he, as a presidential candidate, would have over Mr. Blaine, is that the former could command the mugwump element, which will not support Mr. Blaine. This little Sherman boomerang is exploded before it has an opportunity to boom much. The New York Times, the representative and most influential of the mugwump organs, is squarely for Cleveland against even Sherman, and has the following to say of the latter's attack on the administration in his Nashville speech:

Mr. Sherman makes the strange statement that the administration "has no practice, but goes to no expedient, to redress the surplus" and he criticizes the president for not consenting to squander it upon river and harbor "improvements." There is nothing on which the administration has been more explicit and emphatic than this very matter of reducing the surplus. But it seems to fail to comprehend that of Mr. Sherman that he seems to fail to comprehend it, if he makes such an effort. It is the reduction of the surplus by reducing the taxation that produces it, and not by drawing it from the people and then using it to promote robbery and to pauperize the veterans soldiers.

THE IDEAS of March are not as full of promise for the Mulligan statesman as he expected they would be a few months since. Indeed, his friends expected to spring a genuine boom on the country about this time, and had him in training for the event. But Mr. Sherman unexpectedly comes to the fore and institutes a campaign of gigantic proportions, and one which is calculated to play havoc with the plans of the gentleman from Maine. At the same time the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the Burlington Hawkeye and the Milwaukee Sentinel, leading republican organs of the west, admonish their men to study the signs of the times before they blindly repeat their folly of 1884. This sudden and powerful disaffection in the west, so closely following Sherman's open bid for the republican nomination, has brought Blaine from his leading place and put him to stirring westward. He ostensibly goes to Indian Territory to visit his daughter, but will in all probability make things warm before his return. In the meantime President Cleveland is taking it quietly, while selecting his poles and appliances for his summer fish. Conscious of the approval of his countrymen, he continues to make one of the best presidents the country ever had, and moves along without effort to certain re-election.

The Cotton Movement.

The New York Financial Chronicle, in its cotton review, says that for the week ending March 25 the total receipts have reached 46,298 bales, against 57,716 bales last week, 72,953 bales the previous week and 79,951 bales three weeks since, making the total receipts since the first of September, 1886, 5,066,872 bales, against 4,791,562 bales for the same period of 1885-6, showing an increase since September 1, 1886, of 214,370 bales.

During the same period the exports reach a total of 109,885 bales, of which 74,680 were to Great Britain, 14,163 to France and 29,042 to the rest of the continent. The total exports for forward delivery for the week are 678,700 bales. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up 2,861 bales, including 930 for export, 1,931 for consumption. The imports into continental ports have been 58,000 bales.

There has been a decrease in the cotton in sight of 56,211 bales as compared with the same date of 1886, an increase of 142,720 bales as compared with the corresponding date of 1885 and a decrease of 121,951 bales as compared with 1884. The old interior stocks have decreased during the week 26,439 bales and are 184,456 bales less than at the same period last year. The receipts at the same towns have been 3,016 bales more than the same week last year, and since September 1 the receipts at all the towns are 71,927 bales more than for the same in 1885-6.

The increase in amount in sight Friday night as compared with last year, is 45,713 bales, the increase as compared with 1884-5 is 630,973 bales and the increase over 1883-4 is 679,171 bales. The total receipts from the plantations since September 1, 1886, were 5,131,658 bales; in 1885-6 were 5,134,044 bales; in 1884-5 were 4,692,136 bales.

Although the receipts at the outports the past week were 46,298 bales, the actual movement from plantations was only 19,230 bales, the balance being taken from the stocks at the interior towns. Last year the receipts from the plantations for the same week were 29,998 bales and for 1885 they were 18,830 bales.

The Chronicle says the speculation in cotton for future delivery at New York has been active, and prices show a further advance. On Saturday last there was some depression, caused by sales to realize. This advance had been sufficient, it was thought, to make the reaction of a few points probable; but on Monday Liverpool did not respond at all to this idea, and as a consequence there was heavy buying to cover contracts, with an advance of 13 to 16 points, in which the next crop shared. On Tuesday the bears were again encouraged to sell the market down a few points, but only to find the price going against them on Wednesday.

On Thursday morning an advance of 2 to 3-1/2 cents at Liverpool caused with us a jump of 6 to 8 points, most of which was almost immediately lost under sales to realize and for eastern account; there was, however, quickly, with a large business. Friday the opening was depressed a few points by the bears again, but sales put on contracts, but an early recovery for this crop was followed by renewed depression, and the close was a few points lower. Cotton on the spot advanced one-eighth of a cent on Monday and one-sixteenth of a cent on Wednesday and Thursday.

Not at all Strange.

The New York creditors, who were left in the lurch by Lawton, when he absconded to Canada with the net result of his swindling operations, are now discussing the missing man and his peculiarities.

What appears to surprise everybody is the fact that Lawton was all his life strictly business. From his youth up he had never been known to have a single vice. He wasted no time in fashionable dissipation, and neither drank nor used tobacco. Moreover he was stingy. Not ordinarily stingy, but close, niggardly and mean as to attract general attention. Such a man was not likely to lose money, but he therefore lacked one of the usual temptations that make men dishonest.

And yet this is the case. It is all. It matters not how moral a stingy man may be. His grasping avarice is simply covetousness, any reader of the Scriptures knows the road that the covetous man travels. Lawton coveted money for its own sake, and at last he threw to the winds friendly and business obligations, the demands of honor, duty and everything else, and risked all to make one grand scoop.

Such men as Lawton do not have any small vices, because they are expensive. Money is what they are after, and there is always danger that they will break out in a sudden defiance of law and public opinion, and commit some gigantic robbery. They are just as likely to do it when they are headed as when they are in the flush of youth. Covetousness stirs a fire in the blood of age, and arms the dotard with daring and strength.

Why trust the stingy man at all? He is at heart dishonest. He will steal when he thinks he can do it safely. When a man is tainted with this meanness of all vices he will not only bear watching, but a pair of hand-cuffs should always be convenient.

A Learned Commentator Muddled.

Immediately upon the passage of the interstate commerce act, Mr. Dos Passos, an able member of the New York bar, caused it to be announced that he would prepare a work explaining the provisions of the law. As such a book was very much needed, the railroad men and lawyers looked for its appearance with some impatience.

Mr. Dos Passos sailed into his work with a zeal worthy of the undertaking, but he had not proceeded far before it began to dawn upon him that he was in for all sorts of a job. He brought all his legal learning and critical acumen to his aid, but he found that like the framers of the law he could not make head or tail of it. Still, the promised book had to appear on time, and despite his painful doubts the commentator kept faith with the public.

We cannot touch upon all the points of difficulty encountered by Mr. Dos Passos. One will be enough. In the first place, concerning the long and short haul clause, our disgusted author boldly says that it delegates to the commission the power ordinarily supposed to belong only to the legislative branch of government, to suspend the operation of a penal statute, and he rightly takes the position that the courts will have to pass upon this extraordinary delegation of power.

Again he finds that in one place the long and short haul section directly repeals the provisions made in another part of the same section. It forbids a greater charge for a short haul than for a long haul, where the circumstances are the same, and yet it goes on to forbid the charging of an equal amount for a short haul and a long haul without any mention of the qualifying circumstances, thereby, in effect, cancelling the provision made for them in the beginning. The value of this conclusion, however, is somewhat impaired by Mr. Dos Passos' admission that he cannot be certain of anything. He says: "The language is faulty, ambiguous, and perhaps so confused as to be incapable of interpretation."

The learned commentator has not successfully dealt with the knotty problem, but he deserves credit all the same. He has called attention to many puzzling points in the bill, and this will be of some service to all parties concerned.

As we have more than once stated, it will take a long time to authoritatively settle the construction of one of the most remarkable legislative experiments of modern times.

How Congressmen May Spend Their Vacation.

Some newspapers are urging the president to call an extra session of congress. This suggestion, in almost every instance, comes from journals which do not support the administration. If the president was seeking counsel on this question he would not look to the sources of this gratuitous advice.

In all probability, however, the president has never thought of calling an extra session of the fifty-fifth congress. About the only argument offered by his volunteer counselors is that congress should be assembled at once to reduce the surplus. This argument was as strong eighteen months ago as it is now. It presented itself to congress during two entire sessions, and the only effect it had was to elicit a few spasmodic and abortive efforts at a reduction of taxation. The president's experience with the only congress he has had to deal with officially is not calculated to inspire in him any great degree of confidence in congressional wisdom when applied to this great question.

Extra sessions have never been called except in cases of emergency, and they have almost always accomplished the objects for which they were assembled. If the president should take the responsibility of convening the new congress in extra session for the purpose of considering the tariff and the proper disposition of the surplus it is not at all certain that any tangible result would be accomplished. An extra session which merely met, talked and adjourned would not be an ornament to the records of the administration. Congress will meet in regular session next December. In the meantime the members cannot spend their time in a better way than in the study of those great questions which will, a few months hence, inevitably be presented to them. The people expect the fifty-fifth congress to do something practical with these questions. A few months of careful investigation and honest endeavor to ascertain the wants of the people they are to represent will prove more beneficial to the members of the fifty-fifth congress than a trip to Washington this spring or next fall to partake of the luxuries of an extra session.

In trying to run the entire democratic party, the whisky ring is attempting too much.

THE weather bureau remarked that yesterday would be warm and rainy. Consequently it was cold and cloudy.

JANITOR JAMES J. TITUS, the confessed murderer of Tillie Smith, has been landed in the Trenton, New Jersey, penitentiary to serve out his sentence of life imprisonment. When the people of Belvidere, who had been duped into signing petitions for a commutation of the death penalty, learned what an infamous dog Titus had confessed himself to be, they were very indignant and would have lynched him had he not been spirited away by the sheriff. In future the people of Belvidere will be careful how they sign petitions. The lawyers for Titus prepared petitions of various complexities, to suit various views, and when the returns were all cut off and the names were attached to a petition which had been specially prepared for the board of pardons. The worst feature of the business, however, is this: That the people signed the petitions under the impression that Titus might possibly be innocent, while the board granted the commutation knowing he had confessed to the diabolical crime.

DR. HAWTHORNE, the eloquent preacher, believes Atlanta is the best city in the United States. Consequently he cannot be allowed away by tempting offers. He is content, he says, to spend the remainder of his days in the mean.

COLONEL FRANK HATTON, of Chicago, announced that in the new south "a delegation of colored men is not allowed to call on a United States senator." The colonel will not announce that a United States senator is not allowed to call on a delegation of colored men, but it resists one end of the civil rights bill. For instance, section 3 of the law is as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any common carrier subject to the provisions of this act to make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to any particular person, company, firm, corporation or locality, or to discriminate in the transportation of any particular description of traffic, or in any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage to any particular description of traffic.

Whether the able southern congressman that this is the intent of the act, we do not know, but if they are as able as they claim to be, and as patriotic as they ought to be, there can be no doubt that they had carefully studied the measure before they cast their votes for it, and, as a matter of course, they must have known its far-reaching effects. Otherwise they would stand condemned before their constituents in voting for a bill which they had not even read.

The section we have quoted is operative, and as all the important roads of the south will be necessarily driven into interstate combinations by the very terms of the bill, it must follow that section 3 will be operative in all. There is no escaping from its provisions. Its language is clear and unmistakable, and there is no getting around it.

As we have said before, the interstate commerce bill is a very big thing.

About a One-Horse State.

A change is coming over the spirit of the republican dreams in Rhode Island. For years, the party has been controlled by the most corrupt methods known to the party, and that is saying a great deal. Of late, when the republican party of Rhode Island has desired a candidate for governor, it has boldly gone into the market and announced that, for a moneyed consideration, it would part with the governorship.

Its latest venture in this direction, as our readers know, has been with one Wetmore, a business man of New York. Wetmore has plenty of money, and this was what the republicans of Rhode Island wanted. The salary of the governor of Rhode Island, and it is a very large salary indeed, when it is borne in mind that the state is not very much larger than Fulton county, and when it is further remembered that the duties of the governor are not as important as those of the ordinary of the smallest county in Georgia, is onerous to the people of that state.

Wetmore has been renominated, and the People's Journal, the leading republican newspaper in the state, is opposing him. This is all very well as far as it goes, but there will be no real reform in Rhode Island until the republicans shall join the democrats in the repeal of the barriers that stand in the way of universal suffrage.

Wetmore has been renominated, and the People's Journal, the leading republican newspaper in the state, is opposing him. This is all very well as far as it goes, but there will be no real reform in Rhode Island until the republicans shall join the democrats in the repeal of the barriers that stand in the way of universal suffrage.

Wetmore has been renominated, and the People's Journal, the leading republican newspaper in the state, is opposing him. This is all very well as far as it goes, but there will be no real reform in Rhode Island until the republicans shall join the democrats in the repeal of the barriers that stand in the way of universal suffrage.

Wetmore has been renominated, and the People's Journal, the leading republican newspaper in the state, is opposing him. This is all very well as far as it goes, but there will be no real reform in Rhode Island until the republicans shall join the democrats in the repeal of the barriers that stand in the way of universal suffrage.

Wetmore has been renominated, and the People's Journal, the leading republican newspaper in the state, is opposing him. This is all very well as far as it goes, but there will be no real reform in Rhode Island until the republicans shall join the democrats in the repeal of the barriers that stand in the way of universal suffrage.

Wetmore has been renominated, and the People's Journal, the leading republican newspaper in the state, is opposing him. This is all very well as far as it goes, but there will be no real reform in Rhode Island until the republicans shall join the

DUELING
CHESTNUT OR ATION.

the South—Honor
ment—The Personal of Arms.

onor in which two versity were engaged duels and dueling place the dueling erved. Perhaps it will the column some tly been made, but about dueling in a few years ago.
on. It was held to a quarrel—by
in South Carolina
a quarrel—to which the hotel expression book condemned general condemned common method of soothing wounded

Carolina has undertaken affairs in which participated, and the old and dead to rea-men may still be seen so, but they take very carry their theory in state make the an-
ner. And what else
yocates of the institu-

that grew out of the
to do with changople in regard to his and Courier, under
of Captain Dawson,
the present severe
in state, was appre-
of the great Catholic mission the ribbon or of one of the knight's

of 1877 the leg-state. The and popularity
seemed to increase, and, perhaps, a ever supposed that in an instant when he had a hand in the matter of dueling.

MAKING POLICEMEN.

HE CALLED THE TURN.
A TRAGEDY IN A GAMBLING ROOM
IN BOSTON.

A Boston Druggist Tries His Hand at Faro—Dies
in a Swindle, He Protests—A Fight
Ensues and the Two Men
Are Killed—Other Crimes.

BOSTON, March 28.—About 4 o'clock this afternoon a fatal shooting affair took place at No. 10 Avery street. The premises had been used as a gambling room, run by Edward Flanagan and David Lanahan. At the hour mentioned, the two proprietors and Adolph A. Albrecht were engaged in a game of faro, being the only persons in the building. According to Albrecht's story, he detected Lanahan in an attempt to cheat him, there being about $16 on the table, and he remonstrated with him, when Lanahan grabbed a big iron bar and made a savage pass at him. Albrecht then fired two shots at Lanahan, one passing through his forehead and coming out of the back of his head, causing instant death. Flanagan then championed Lanahan, and was struck by Albrecht also with the iron bar, but was not by two or three more bullets from Albrecht's revolver, and the others took effect in his head. Flanagan's wounds are pronounced mortal. The shots were heard by a hired driver, who reported the shooting at the police station, and a posse of officers was sent to the premises, who effected an entrance through the roof and windows and succeeded in capturing Albrecht. The dead body of Lanahan was removed to the police station and turned over to an undertaker.

Albrecht was immediately taken to a hospital, where he is reported as dying. Flanagan is sixty years of age. Lanahan was forty-two years old, both men being known to the police as professionals gamblers whose rooms have often been raided. Albrecht is a drug store. He claims to have graduated at the University of Heidelberg, and at the University of Verona, and to have received a portion of his education in Paris.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done. Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to pacify or get rid of her, I stepped to the police station and requested an officer to remove her from my office, which was promptly done.

Her attorney afterwards Chairman Connolly informed me that Albrecht drew his revolver and commenced shooting before they began their attack upon him.

COLONEL MOYERS MAKES A STATEMENT.

Immediately after the woman left the city room Colonel Moyers entered and when asked about the trouble said:

"There is a very small basis for a sensation.

The woman came to my office this afternoon apparently intoxicated and very boisterous. I have represented her recently as her attorney in five or six matters about which you can learn more from the city clerk's and city marshal's offices and from the police commissioners' and Sanitary Inspector's office.

She was dissatisfied with charges aggregating fifteen dollars which I made for services in these little cases, and when she called was very abusive and profane. Failing to

RAILROAD TIME TABLE

Showing the arrival and departure of all trains from the city. Centralia.

ARRIVE.	DEPART.
No. 14, from Savannah.	No. 14, for Rome, Knoxville, Brunswick and Jacksonville, 10:50 a.m.
No. 15, from Atlanta.	No. 15, for Cincinnati, 1:00 p.m.
No. 16, from Atlanta.	No. 16, for Roma, Knoxville, Cincinnati, Nashville, Memphis, 5 to 6 p.m.
No. 17, from Atlanta.	No. 17, for Roma, Knoxville, Cincinnati, and Memphis, 8:30 p.m.
No. 18, from Atlanta.	No. 18, for Savannah, Brunswick and Jacksonville, 7:45 a.m.

RAILROAD AIR-LINE
New York fast mail	12:20 p.m.
" " daily	12:45 a.m.
" " daily	6:30 p.m.
Lake Account	8:30 a.m.

CENTRAL RAILROAD
From Macon	12:15 a.m.
" " " "	12:30 a.m.
" " " "	2:30 p.m.
" " " "	4:15 p.m.
" " " "	5:15 p.m.
" " " "	9:00 p.m.

WESTERN AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD
From Chattanooga	7:50 a.m.
" " " "	8:30 a.m.
" " " "	9:30 a.m.
" " " "	10:30 a.m.
" " " "	11:30 a.m.
" " " "	12:30 p.m.

ATLANTA AND WEST POINT RAILROAD
From M'Graw's 2:15 a.m.	To M'Graw's... 12:20 p.m.
" " " 10:00 a.m.	" " " 12:30 p.m.
" " " 12:30 p.m.	" " " 12:30 p.m.

GEORGIA RAILROAD
From Augusta	6:40 a.m.
" " " "	To Augusta... 8:00 a.m.
" " " "	To Decatur... 8:30 a.m.
" " " "	To Augusta... 8:45 a.m.
" " " "	To Augusta... 9:45 a.m.
" " " "	To Covington... 10:45 a.m.
" " " "	To Augusta... 7:30 p.m.

Stocks as reported at the New York Stock Exchange.
CHICAGO	12:30 p.m.
ATLANTA	2:30 p.m.
WILMINGTON	2:30 p.m.
CHARLESTON	2:30 p.m.
NEW YORK	2:30 p.m.

Stocks as reported at the New York Stock Exchange.
CHICAGO	12:30 p.m.
ATLANTA	2:30 p.m.
WILMINGTON	2:30 p.m.
CHARLESTON	2:30 p.m.
NEW YORK	2:30 p.m.

Stocks as reported at the New York Stock Exchange.
CHICAGO	12:30 p.m.
ATLANTA	2:30 p.m.
WILMINGTON	2:30 p.m.
CHARLESTON	2:30 p.m.
NEW YORK	2:30 p.m.

Stocks as reported at the New York Stock Exchange.
CHICAGO	12:30 p.m.
ATLANTA	2:30 p.m.
WILMINGTON	2:30 p.m.
CHARLESTON	2:30 p.m.
NEW YORK	2:30 p.m.

Stocks as reported at the New York Stock Exchange.
CHICAGO	12:30 p.m.
ATLANTA	2:30 p.m.
WILMINGTON	2:30 p.m.
CHARLESTON	2:30 p.m.
NEW YORK	2:30 p.m.

Stocks as reported at the New York Stock Exchange.
CHICAGO	12:30 p.m.
ATLANTA	2:30 p.m.
WILMINGTON	2:30 p.m.
CHARLESTON	2:30 p.m.
NEW YORK	2:30 p.m.

Stocks as reported at the New York Stock Exchange.
CHICAGO	12:30 p.m.
ATLANTA	2:30 p.m.
WILMINGTON	2:30 p.m.
CHARLESTON	2:30 p.m.
NEW YORK	2:30 p.m.

Stocks as reported at the New York Stock Exchange.
CHICAGO	12:30 p.m.
ATLANTA	2:30 p.m.
WILMINGTON	2:30 p.m.
CHARLESTON	2:30 p.m.
NEW YORK	2:30 p.m.

Stocks as reported at the New York Stock Exchange.
CHICAGO	12:30 p.m.
ATLANTA	2:30 p.m.
WILMINGTON	2:30 p.m.
CHARLESTON	2:30 p.m.
NEW YORK	2:30 p.m.

Stocks as reported at the New York Stock Exchange.
CHICAGO	12:30 p.m.
ATLANTA	2:30 p.m.
WILMINGTON	2:30 p.m.
CHARLESTON	2:30 p.m.
NEW YORK	2:30 p.m.

Stocks as reported at the New York Stock Exchange.
CHICAGO	12:30 p.m.
ATLANTA	2:30 p.m.
WILMINGTON	2:30 p.m.
CHARLESTON	2:30 p.m.
NEW YORK	2:30 p.m.

Stocks as reported at the New York Stock Exchange.
CHICAGO	12:30 p.m.
ATLANTA	2:30 p.m.
WILMINGTON	2:30 p.m.
CHARLESTON	2:30 p.m.
NEW YORK	2:30 p.m.

||
||
||

Mothers
Have you delicate CHILDREN WHO ARE CONSTANTLY TAKING GOLD
and subject to CROUP
YOU WILL FIND IN ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM
A SAFE AND SURE REMEDY.
25⁰ 50⁰ & 100⁰
PER BOTTLE
Brings it within reach of all
NO ONE SHOULD BE Without it
ALL DRUGGISTS SELL
ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM
Name this paper, THE CONSTITUTION, to see how to get it.

FOR SALE.

TWO LARGE IRON SAFES AND SEVERAL
handsome showcases and counters.
FREEMAN & CRANSHAW, Jewelers, top 1st fl. 25 and 51 Whitehall street.McBRIDE. McBRIDE.Haviland's China, Carlsbad China, Fine Cut.
NEW, FASHIONABLE, CHEAP.
GLASS, SPOONS, FORKS, KNIVES,
Dry Air Refrigerators.
Cream Freezers.
GATE CITY STONE FILTERS.
BEST GOODS. LARGEST STOCK.
LOWEST PRICES.

McBRIDE'S.

THE WEATHER REPORT.Daily Weather Bulletin.
OBSERVER'S OFFICE, SIGNAL SERVICE, U. S. A.
U. S. CUSTOM HOUSE, MARCH 28, 1887—9 P.M.
All observations taken at the same moment of each time at each place.

		WIND.
Barometer.	Thermometer.
Direct on.	Dew Point.
Velocity.
Rainfall.
Weather.
Augusta.	29.81 52.62 W	12 .11	Foggy.
Savannah.	29.94 56.83 N	22 .00	Cloudy.
Montgomery.	30.01 54.92 N	10 .00	Cloudy.
New Orleans.	30.11 54.92 N	7 .00	Clear.
Galveston.	30.21 62.92 N	6 .00	Clear.
Pensacola.	30.18 39.82 N	11 .00	Clear.
Fort Smith.	34.00 95.00 N	11 .00	Cloudy.
Shreveport.

LOCAL OBSERVATIONS.

6 a. m.—29.81 52.62 W 12 .11 Foggy.

2 p. m.—29.94 56.83 N 22 .00 Cloudy.

9 p. m.—30.01 54.92 N 10 .00 Cloudy.

Maximum thermometer—54.

Minimum thermometer—51.

Total rainfall—.11.

W. EASBY SMITH,
Corporal, Signal Corps, U. S. Army.

NOTE.—Barometer reduced to sea level and standard gravity. The dash (—) indicates precipitation insipreciate.

The Southern Bivouac

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

The magazine has increased in interest with each issue. It is a good paper.

"It is gratifying to find a monthly magazine conducted with so much literary merit and spirit in the south."—New York Independent.

"The scope has gradually grown broader and now embraces all those features which may be looked for in a standard literary periodical."—Boston Transcript.

"The Bivouac, worthy of all praise, is eminently worthy of the support of the south."—Memphis Appeal.

"The Bivouac has taken front rank among the magazines of the United States."—Augusta, Ga. Evening News.

CONTENTS FOR APRIL.

I.—The Fight for Richmond. E. M. May

II.—The Temple of Trees. Wm. H. Hayne

III.—"Kiney Lander." Patti B. Semple

IV.—Andrew Jackson's Duel with Lockett.

V.—A Southern Invitation. Wm. H. Mayne

VI.—Old Scipio. Henry W. Cleveland

VII.—Virginia Birds. P. S. Hunter

VIII.—A Dance Song. John Sheppard

IX.—John C. Symmes, (Illustrated) Elmer Symmes

X.—The Surrender of Fort Donelson.

XI.—To a Mocking Bird in April. Chas. J. O. M. Casdell

XII.—The Northwestern Conspiracy.

XIII.—The Philosophy of Locksley Hall. Thomas Cawthron

XIV.—Editor's Table.

XV.—Comments and Criticism.

XVI.—Salmon.

Send 20 Cents for Sample Copy.

One Year, $2.00. Six Months, $1.00.

For sale by all Newsdealers.

Bound Copy—First Volume, June 1885 to May 1886, inclusive, $3.00.

sun tuss tuss

Cold Wave Coming.

The following telegram has been received from the chief signal officer of the army:

WASHINGTON CITY, March 28.—10:20 A.M.—Hoist cold wave signal. Temperature will probably fall about 20 degrees by 7 a. m. Tuesday.

The annual meetings of Payne's Chapel and the First Presbyterian church are attended with great interest. Dr. W. G. Green presided the opening Sunday night, to the delight of a crowded house. Tuesday morning and night the services were held in the Chapel, and each alternate day and night Rev. K. W. Kershaw led the music. Great good is expected from such services. Meetings at 9 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

"Bough on Dirt."

Ask for Rough on Dirt; a perfect washing powder found at last! A harmless, extra fine A 1 article, pure and clean, sweetens, freshens, bleaches and whitens without slightest injury to finest fabric. Unequalled for fine linens and lace, for towels, kitchen, and laundry use. Soaks water, saves labor and soap, added to starch increases gloss. 5c, 10c, 25c, at ruggists or Grocers.

Read This.

I am offering, for a few days, great bargains in old and second-hand room furniture. My stock is larger than ever seen in the city, and I believe, the cheapest in the south. You will call and examine my stock before buying, I know you will save money. P. H. Snook.

Very Cheap.

Twenty-five cent top desks and fifty handsome baby cradles at P. H. Snook's.

A NOR'WESTER.

ATLANTA TREATED TO A DOSE OF REMARKABLE WEATHER.Thermometer shot up to 90 degrees. Mr. Bass in Twelve Feet, with the Wind Blowing a versatile Gale. Probability That This Will Settle the Fate of the Peach Crop.Atlanta is being treated to some very remarkable weather.Shortly before ten o'clock yesterday morning, Signal Officer W. Easby Smith received the following telegram:"Hoist cold wave. Temperature will probably fall about 20 degrees by 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. (Signed) GREEN."The message was hardly necessary, for before it reached here the cold wave had put in its appearance. And it came with a rush.At six o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer at the signal station registered fifty-two degrees. As the day advanced the mercury began to drop, slowly at first, but by noon the downward tendency was at a rate of about 10 degrees an hour. At noon it stood at the thirty-eighth degree point, at 2 o'clock it read thirty-six and was falling rapidly. The wind was from the northwest and was blowing a gale.
During the day its velocity varied from twenty-four to thirty miles an hour, with frequent gusts, when the rate was increased to forty, forty-five, and even fifty miles an hour. The sky was covered with clouds all day. A faint thermometer indicated the presence of considerable moisture and clouds which had kept their weather eyes open were not at all surprised when

SNOW FELL LAST EVENING.

Last night was an intensely disagreeable one, and judging by the appearance of the streets almost every person who could possibly remain at home did so. Some brave ones ventured out to church, but those lost no time in getting home after the services came to an end.There were decided luxuries and many with heavy overcoats were envied by their fellows.During the evening the mercury continued its efforts to drop out of sight. The freezing point was reached quite early, but still it dropped. The weather bears were on top, and no mistake. As night approached the velocity of the wind continued to increase until it almost reached the hurricane rate. It blew hard all night.

ICE FORMING.

"Do you want some weather news?" came
over the telephone wires at eleven o'clock.
The answer was in the affirmative."I am the watchman at Westview cemetery," continued the voice. "At this hour the thermometer here registers twenty-eight degrees. The wind is blowing hard and snow is falling quite rapidly. Ice has formed to the thickness of an eighth of an inch."Similar reports came from other portions of the city.

THE CROPS.

"Do you want some weather news?" came
over the telephone wires at eleven o'clock.
The answer was in the affirmative."I am the watchman at Westview cemetery," continued the voice. "At this hour the thermometer here registers twenty-eight degrees. The wind is blowing hard and snow is falling quite rapidly. Ice has formed to the thickness of an eighth of an inch."

What Advertising Does.

The CONSTITUTION is a dangerous paper to advertising. In the following letter will show what advertising to the public.HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE
In Nervous Dyspepsia.Dr. R. S. McCombs, Philadelphia, Pa., says:
"I have used it in nervous dyspepsia with success. It is good nervous tonic."

What Advertising Does.

The CONSTITUTION is a dangerous paper to advertising. In the following letter will show what advertising to the public.FADDICK, HAWLEY IRON CO., Manufacturers and Dealers. OFFICE 806 N. MAY, ST. LOUIS.—
Managing Editor ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, Ga.—"The advertisement of the 'Buchi-Pal' in your 'Cigar' board in your paper is very obnoxious since, and there is such a thing as getting too much of a good thing. Wish you would advise your subscribers to stop writing for 'Pal' and board as they are swamped with it and are not worth the trouble."—FADDICK, HAWLEY IRON CO.The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hoof's Saraparilla now than at any other time. Therefore, take it now.The old Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company of Newark, N. J., has established an agency in Atlanta, and prepared to offer policies to southern insurers. Many people will welcome their advent with great pleasure, as they have been offered for forty years of this great company in other sections of the United States is well known. This, taken together with the unequalled liberality of its policy contract, and its unsurpassed reputation for fair dealing with its members, proves that the Mutual Benefit furnishes the best insurance at the lowest cost price. The statement of the company is published in another column. It has received from policy holders of the company the sum of over one hundred and one hundred and eighty million dollars.
It has paid out in death claims, surrendered policies and dividends over ninety-two million dollars, which leaves in company's possession nearly nineteen million dollars, but in addition to this the investments of the company have yielded sufficient returns to pay all taxes and expenses, and still add to the policy holders' funds for the future. The amount of contract is one hundred million dollars, making total assets of over forty million dollars.
The company is a pure Life Insurance company. No speculative features. No tuning estimates. But induces on the policy and provides the results. 1. Guaranteed cash surrender value each year. 2. Amount company will lose each year. 3. In case of lapse, the company will not as in other companies guarantee the time remitted in extended insurance each year. 4. In case of lapse, guarantees the paid up policy each year. No other company has such fair, plain and liberal features. The aim and desire of the company is to give a dollar's worth of insurance for every dollar of premium paid, and it does it. The company has been fortunate in the selection of Mr. Clarence Angier as their general agent for the state. He has been in Atlanta for a number of years, and has a large and well-established business. His character and ability are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-established business. His character and ability
are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is
guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-
established business. His character and ability
are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is
guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-
established business. His character and ability
are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is
guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-
established business. His character and ability
are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is
guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-
established business. His character and ability
are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is
guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-
established business. His character and ability
are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is
guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-
established business. His character and ability
are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is
guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-
established business. His character and ability
are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is
guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-
established business. His character and ability
are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is
guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-
established business. His character and ability
are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is
guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-
established business. His character and ability
are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is
guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-
established business. His character and ability
are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is
guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-
established business. His character and ability
are too well known to require introduction.
We predict a large and yearly increasing
business for the Mutual Benefit under the
active, intelligent and honorable management
of Mr. Angier. Of one thing all may be assured.
Neither the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance
company nor any other company will ever mis-
lead or蒙骗 any person that it is
guaranteed to pay up the policy value in
full. The company has a large and well-established business. His character and